Contributors	Comment
Newmont Corporation Registered Shs Chess Depositary Interests Repr 1 Sh (NEM.ASX) 10.8%	Newmont Corporation (NEM.ASX) was a key contributor in July following a strong second-quarter result. The company delivered record free cash flow of US$1.7 billion and reported net income of US$2.1 billion, driven by a higher gold price and operational improvements at assets such as Yanacocha, Peñasquito, and Boddington. Costs moderated with lower sustaining capital spend and divestment of non-core assets. The result reinforced confidence in Newmont's portfolio quality and its commitment to disciplined capital allocation.
CSL Limited (CSL.ASX) 13.1%	CSL was a positive contributor to performance during July, driven by supportive financial results from peer companies and several broker research reports hinting at the prospect of CSL announcing a large cost saving program at its upcoming August result.
ResMed Inc. CHES Depositary Interests on a ratio of 10 CDIs per ord.sh (RMD.ASX) 7.9%	RMD was a positive contributor to performance in July. While news flow was lacking, various broker research reports were highlighting continued positive feedback from industry and related sources. Since month-end Resmed reported a strong financial for the period to 30 June and guided to a continued robust outlook for growth.

Detractors	Comment
SGH Limited (SGH.ASX) -5.2%	SGH detracted in July as investor sentiment softened following concerns around slowing activity in the housing and construction sectors. We continue to view SGH as well-positioned through the cycle, with quality industrial assets and diversified earnings streams.
Macquarie Group, Ltd. (MQG.ASX) -5.0%	MQG detracted in July after reporting a softer than expected operating update, driven by lower trading activity in its Commodities and Global Markets division. While Banking and Macquarie Capital performed better, the outlook appears more cautious given the mixed divisional performance and announced key management changes.
Coles Group Ltd. (COL.ASX) -0.5%	COL detracted during July following fears of intensified industry competition driving lower prices, thus margins. We view these fears as noise and continue to see the group as well positioned to deliver strong EPS growth ahead of revenue over the next couple of years as it benefits from supply chain improvements and productivity gains.
